

Disclosure & recordkeeping document

Order ord_sample_redacted · Generated 2026-05-11T15:00:06Z · Buyer:
c1@samplefirm.com

This document is the per-delivery disclosure and provenance record for the AI-generated portraits in this order. Cabinet ships it with every delivery so the practitioner’s firm can place it in the recordkeeping retention file alongside the published images. Conservative design choice: no claim of external compliance-counsel review is made in this document. If your firm requires named external review, that engagement happens separately.

Per-jurisdiction disclosure language

Each block below is paste-ready disclosure copy for one jurisdiction the buyer attested to at the pre-checkout gate. Conservative wording: the ‘designed against’ framing reflects how Cabinet has structured the artifact; the actual rule application should be verified by the buyer’s firm-level compliance officer.

New York — Rule of Professional Conduct 7.1

Designed against: Designed against New York Rule of Professional Conduct 7.1 (communications concerning a lawyer's services must be truthful and not misleading).

Suggested paste-ready disclosure:

AI-generated portrait. Identity-preserved likeness of the practitioner from reference photographs; setting and wardrobe are computer-rendered.

Investment adviser (RIA) — SEC Marketing Rule

Designed against: Designed against the SEC Marketing Rule 206(4)-1 fair-and-balanced standard. The portrait is identity-preserving (not identity-altering); the disclosure language below is suggested for any bio or social-media surface where the image is published.

Suggested paste-ready disclosure:

AI-generated portrait. Likeness preserved from reference photographs provided by the advisor. Background and wardrobe are computer-rendered. The advisor's appearance is not altered or enhanced beyond filter-typical retouching.

Other US jurisdiction

Designed against: If a specific state-bar or jurisdictional rule applies, your firm's compliance counsel should review the suggested disclosure language below.

Suggested paste-ready disclosure:

AI-generated portrait. Identity-preserved likeness of the practitioner. Background and wardrobe are computer-rendered.

AI provenance — what’s in each image

Every Cabinet image ships with three layers of AI-provenance marking. None is removable without re-encoding the image, and re-encoding is detectable in a basic audit.

1. EXIF AI-marker — the EXIF ImageDescription field carries the short-form disclosure string. Survives JPEG copy/edit in most workflows; lost only by deliberate metadata stripping.

2. JSON sidecar — a structured metadata file shipped next to each image, with the full identity-match score, generation timestamp, reference-set hash, and buyer attestation pointer.

3. C2PA content credentials — cryptographic signed claim chain embedded directly in the image. Survives most edits; verifiable with any C2PA-aware viewer.
